Red Level Networks announced today that it has been contracted by EXCO Extrusion Dies and M&W Industries, Inc. to provide infrastructure enhancements, and ongoing, long-term support. Billings were not disclosed.

"We are very pleased to be working with these dynamic companies and providing them superior IT services," said David King, president and founder of Red Level Networks. "These relationships will enable the growth of their companies as their IT capabilities are enhanced, while allowing us to showcase the reason that we are one of Michigan's premier IT service and support groups."

Founded in 1981, Detroit-based M&W Industries provides creative handling solutions for the Big Three and tier one suppliers. With 185 employees, M&W's manufacturing process combines the latest steel fabrication technologies with years of industry experience.

EXCO Extrusion Dies is a part of Extrusion Tooling Solutions Group, the largest producer of Extrusion Tooling in North America. With three state-of-the-art manufacturing facilities in Newmarket, Ontario, Canada; Markham, Ontario, Canada and a 70 employee location in Chesterfield, Mich., EXCO provides dies that produce quality product with maximum speed and efficiency.

"As we continue to improve and enhance our manufacturing processes, we are confident that Red Level Networks will assist us to fully leverage technology to deliver a superior product in the marketplace," said Carl Holderbaum, general manager of EXCO Extrusion Dies.
